Content pedal versions

Different pedal versions are available. For the smaller spinet type organs we offer 13 note pedalboards as widely used for popular organs. The smaller more compact models may be offered with a 27 note parallel and retractable pedalboard requiring minimum space. For the larger models we offer either 30 or 32 note parallel pedalboards both in concave and radial concave versions. Concave pedalboards are generally preferred on the continent and non-english speaking or non-English oriented countries. All Content pedal boards are being produced in solid wood in the same wood or stain as the console. The pedal features a strong metal frame to prevent warping. All pedal boards contacts are so called magnetical reed switches, maintenance free contacts in rigid glass tubes inaccessible for dust and humidity.

Fatar Keyboards

The keyboard is the first physical contact with a musical instrument and for that reason alone the quality of a keyboard is of major importance. Optionally several keyboard versions may be ordered as to meet personal preferences. We dedicate a lot of attention to the keyboards: correct material selection, ebony, bone, leather and felt create a perfect touch and correct feeling, accentuated by the tracker touch system based on a magnetic process. Since wooden keyboards are created by craftsmen, it is clear that this will have a certain influence on the price level of your preferred organ, however other attractive keyboards are available at moderate prices.

Expression pedals

Larger pipe organs only allow expression on the Swell manual, where as digital organs generally offer expression pedals for each individual division, allowing a dramatic balance between the different divisions of the organ. Content offers different versions of expression pedals. For professional use we recommend the brass expression pedal, especially suitable when used for the Crescendo function. In addition wooden expression pedals are available matching the console finish of the instrument.
